| 1  | E Synopsis: In this new 36-page, color-illustrated chapter book, the Clark family encounters a dilemma. Twins Luke and Lucy don't take care of their dog, Pistachio, as they had promised their parents they would. One day, their mom threatens to sell the dog. A few hours later, when Luke and Lucy's parents go to the store, the twins concoct a plan to get rid of their parents, which could take Pistachio away from them forever. As the story progresses, three groups of children from different families in the Twins' neighborhood approach Luke and Lucy with offers to buy, rent or trade the twins' parents for various reasons. Each offer Luke and Lucy receive doesn't seem worth it, so they decline. But one offer is better than others. A beautiful fairy comes to their door, offering to buy the twins' parents for $300 and send them to look after orphaned children. The deal sounds great to Luke and Lucy; they accept. But just as they agree to the sale, the fairy changes into her true form—a wicked witch with plans to turn the twins' mom and dad into a stew. The twins try to renegotiate the deal and save their parents from the hungry witch, but to no avail. As they fight with the witch on her magic broom, Pistachio attempts to save the day. Will Pistachio save the Clark family from their demise? Readers will find out the answer to this and other questions in this tale of morality and responsibility. First edition won Readers' Favorite Bronze medal. |

| Non-Fiction Books to teach communication for health professionals | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 |  | E | So many of our relationships—including those most important to us are complicated by not listening: we are eager to speak, we talk over each other, or we unintentionally disregard the inner others' emotions. This problem happens mostly in the working world, where a gap exists between professional efficiency and true human connection. In this heart-warming and radically honest book, Dr. Nicole identifies the remedy for resolving the pain and distance caused by miscommunication: empathy. Empathy, the ability to recognize and make space for others' emotions without judgment, is both an action and a choice. Discovering the power of empathy to heal and create connections dramatically improved Dr. Nicole's life, both as a mother and a doctor. The initial chapters demystify the theory of communication, focusing on empathy in theory and practice. Dr. Nicole also shares numerous powerful stories from her own life and career that reveal how empathy has led to authentic connections and long-term healing. Lastly, she provides the reader with proven exercises that will allow you to practice listening without judgment, honoring silence, responding with wisdom, and speaking from the heart. Such communication skills will open the doors to moments of pure magic in your life. Foreword by Ruth Vachon, President and CEO of the Quebec Business Women's Network.
